

SBHS GOES PINK

October is all about pink ...

DJ Josso-Martin, Danielle Biggs, and
Jean-Luc Oliver

Beginnings/How did it all start?

- Ideas
- What possible way can we spread breast cancer awareness in our school?
 - PENS
 - T-SHIRTS
- How did selling pens turn into a school spirit day?

The Big Day

- How did the school respond?
 - T-Shirts
 - Student/Staff Participation
 - Effort

Where did the money go?

- Profits were donated
- Amy Foundation

Logistics: How did we pull it off, how can you?

- Sold Pens/T-shirts
- Organizations who sold
- Getting the word out

What can we do in the future?

- Collect donations
- Earlier T-Shirt Sales
- Suggestions?

A large, stylized pink awareness ribbon is centered in the background. The ribbon is formed by two overlapping loops, with the top loop being larger and more rounded. The ribbon has a slightly textured, brush-stroke appearance with some darker pink shading to give it depth. The text "Any Questions?" is overlaid on the center of the ribbon.
