

Allentown High School's

WINGBOWL

Concept

- Conceived from SportsRadio 610 WIP's infamous Philadelphia Wingbowl
- In the 16th Wingbowl, 30 competitive eaters devoured spicy Buffalo Wings in front of 20,000 fans at the former Wachovia Center in Philly
- "Wingettes" carry out wings
- Each contestant picks a stage name, like "El Wingador"
- Also, an "entourage" to lead the eater to the stage
- Prizes are granted to the winner and best entourage

BENEFIT

- The idea was proposed by a past Student Council member, who now, as an Allentown alumni, serves in the military and is currently fighting in the war in Iraq
- In his honor, all proceeds from the Wingbowl go to alumni serving in the United States military and platoon overseas

The background of the image is a dense, textured pattern of small, irregular speckles in various shades of red, orange, and white. The overall effect is a vibrant, almost abstract texture that resembles a close-up of a rough surface or a microscopic view of a material. The colors are most intense in the center and fade slightly towards the edges.

Sponsors

Local Restaurants and Eateries

Fortunate to have 3 Sponsors, donating over 800 Wings

Picked up Wings the night of contest & kept them in aluminum (could use sternos to keep warm)

Contestants

- Any student can sign up
- Each receives a can, coffee size, to fill with cash and change from those who support the contestant
- 10 who raise the most are selected for the competition
- Each contestant must have a themed entourage, must submit names of students involved to Student Council

Judges, Referee, & MC

- Used Student Council members to judge each bucket of wings
- Had a physical education teacher referee the entire competition
- Chairmen of the event were the Master of Ceremonies, announcing each entourage, etc.
- Fellow student worked the audio aspect of the night, playing each entering song and interim music

Extra Fund-Raising Tips

- Designed and made T-shirts to be worn by Student Council members that night
- Order forms were distributed at event
- Had 50-50 Raffle during the period when the wings were being counted
- Following competition, extra wings sold in increments (5 for a dollar)
